Olle Middle School Focuses on Teaching the Whole Family

Recently, 38 people from ten different families, with students that attend Olle Middle School, gathered for a Monday evening family learning session. Principal Nelda Billescas was very pleased with the turn-out and she said, "We are anticipating additional families during the future meetings we will be hosting through the end of February."

The family learning sessions are designed to connect families with the school through counseling, networking and opportunities for learning valuable information about numerous subjects to support the needs of not just the students but the entire family.
